Dear Readers,

November is the sacred warrior and acts as a mirror to remind us that we are fighting the real battles with ourselves. As a reflection of ourselves and our views about others, there seems a fine line about perception. May we all perceive the world around us as it is.

Delighted to release the eight issue of this academic year, bringing you warmth and joy of the season, while remembering our goals ahead of us. Here's a brief overview about the activities in our college, while we are happy to share that our First Year Students for the Academic Year 2022-23 have joined the family of PACE.
